HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER.

The great popularity of this preparation, after its test of many years, should be an assurance, even to the most skeptical, that it is really meritorious. Those who have used HALL'S HAIR RENEWER know that it does all that is claimed.

It causes new growth of hair on bald heads—provided the hair follicles are not dead, which is seldom the case; restores natural color to gray or faded hair; preserves the scalp healthful and clear of dandruff; prevents the hair falling off or changing color; keeps it soft, pliant, lustrous, and causes it to grow long and thick.

HALL'S HAIR RENEWER produces its effects by its beneficial influence on the vegetable fluids, which invigorate and rejuvenate. It is not a dye, and is a delightful article for toilet use. Containing no alcohol, it does not evaporate quickly and dry up the natural oil, leaving the hair harsh and brittle, as do other preparations.

Buckingham's Dye FOR THE WHISKERS

Colors them brown or black, as desired, and is the best dye, because it is harmless; produces a permanent result; color; and, being a single preparation, is more convenient of application than any other.

AGENTS WANTED

BY MUTUAL CONSENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Messinger were simple, unaffected people, devoted to their children and to Nancy, Mr. Messinger's young stepsister.

One sunny afternoon in early summer Mrs. Messinger sat at the open bay window of the drawing-room reading. The door opened presently and Nancy came in rather slowly. She came over to the window and seated herself in a low basket chair with an air of constraint.

"I have a letter from Jim," she said.

"Does he say when he is coming?"

"Yes; he came by the same steamship as the letter. He will be here tomorrow, I suppose."

"Nancy! really?" asked Mary, looking almost excited. "Are you not delighted?"

"I—I—have a confession to make," said Nancy, nervously, looking out over the sea. "I thought I loved Jim when he went out to India five years ago, but I was only seventeen then, and did not realize what love meant. We had known each other all our lives, and I mistook our friendship for love.

"I have felt it dimly for a year or two, but what made it all clear to me was Jim's last letter, saying that he was coming home. It filled me with dismay and fear. I felt that I simply could not meet him as his betrothed wife, so I wrote last mail and asked him to release me from my engagement."

"And what does he say?" Mary asked, anxiously.

"He is delighted," said Nancy, brightening. "He says that his feelings have changed too."

"You never hinted at any change before," said Mary, a little reproachfully.

"I only knew it dimly or I might have done so," replied Nancy, gently. "And since I wrote to him I have been silent to spare you any anxiety. My letters have never been from the present Nancy, but from the Nancy as I could remember her at seventeen. In fact, I have been writing down all the time to the level of his intelligence as shown in his letters, and that level is painfully low."

"He would be much more likely to object if he once saw you," said Mary, frankly, "for these five years have done wonders with you in every way."

"Oh, he's so boyish that he will think me strong-minded, and therefore dislike me," said Nancy, laughing. "And I did send him my last photograph, you know."

"Did you send that hideous thing?" asked Mary in surprise.

"Well," confessed Nancy, rather reluctantly, "I believe I had some secret, unconfessed hope that he would offer to break off the engagement if he once saw that hideous caricature."

A day or two later Nancy started for her usual afternoon walk along the cliffs. Walking quickly along, she did not hear footsteps behind her, and was surprised at hearing herself suddenly addressed. Looking up with startled eyes, she found a young man gazing at her with a puzzled, intent expression in his handsome face.

"You are Nancy, are you not?" he said, doubtfully, holding out his hand.

"Why, Jim, is it really you?" asked Nancy, regarding him with surprise. "How you have grown! When did you come? and how did you find me?"

"I came two days ago," he said, reddening slightly in irritation at her first words, "but I called at the Ness this afternoon and Mrs. Messinger told me where I should find you."

"Let us go home now, and then you can see them all," she said, turning back. "You will hardly know the children; they were such mites when you left."

"I certainly shall not, if they have altered as much as you have done. I scarcely knew you," he said, looking down at her with intent gray eyes, and inwardly comparing this beautiful, graceful girl with the gauche schoolgirl of five years since.

"I am older," she said, her heart sinking strangely. "He might disgrace the fact that he finds me a disappointing failure," she thought, rather bitterly.

"Of course we are no longer boy and girl," he said. "But I hope we shall always be friends, Nancy! We have been that all our lives, haven't we?"

"Yes, let us be friends," she said. And thinking that he was eager to impress upon her that they were to be nothing more, she added: "And it was very wise to break off that childish engagement before you came home, wasn't it?"

"I—yes," he said, doubtfully. "Those boy and girl engagements never answer, do they? People develop so differently from what one would expect. Judging from your letters, I should have thought you utterly different from what I find you."

"You are equally different from what I should have expected you to be," she answered. "But let us put up with each other as we are; we need not see much of one another, you know."

They had just reached the gate leading into the garden of the Ness as she said this, and unconsciously she paused outside.

Jim took this, coupled with her last words, as a hint that he should go, and was more hurt than he cared to own.

"Good afternoon," he said, coldly, raising his hat. "Your suggestion is a brilliant one, and you need not fear that I shall trouble you with my presence more often than is necessary."

"Good-by," she said, turning in at the open gate in order that he should not see the rising tears.

"Good-by," he said, frostingly, thinking her absolutely cruel in not shaking hands.

If Mrs. Messinger had been given to alarmist reflections she might have asked herself how Jim and Nancy could possibly avoid each other, according to the compact, when he was always coming to the Ness?

For he came every day and at all hours of the day, as he had been wont to do five years ago.

Nancy lost all her gentle brightness when speaking to Jim, and was coldly, distantly polite to him. Inwardly she knew that her love for him was strengthening day by day, and that no power of hers could prevent it.

His position in regard to Nancy was much worse than that of any mere acquaintance. Every other man could tell her of this love, while it seemed to Jim that he had lost right by gladly agreeing to cancel their engagement.

One afternoon he found her alone, a very rare occurrence indeed, for she was careful to avoid a tete-a-tete with him.

"Shall we go into the garden?" she asked, thinking that anything was preferable to sitting stiffly in the drawing-room.

"I should like it immensely," he answered, rising and opening the door with alacrity. "Will you take me to your old favorite seat? I have so often thought of those days when I was feeling homesick, Nancy."

"I thought you were very happy in India?" she said, unresponsively.

"So I was, but I was homesick sometimes, especially when I first went out."

"Mr. Penstone and I always quarrel over this view," said Nancy, anxious to prevent any embarrassing pause.

"Who is Mr. Penstone?" asked Jim, knitting his brows.

"He is our curate," she answered. "I always say that this is the finest view in town, but Mr. Penstone maintains that the view from—"

"He must be an idiot, then," burst in Jim, hotly; "the views are not to be compared!"

"You might have waited until I had mentioned the other," said Nancy, raising her eyebrows.

"I—I beg your pardon," he said, in utter confusion. "I thought you must mean—in fact, I understood you to say—that—that the view from Beacon was finer than this."

"Yes, that is what Mr. Penstone declares," she said.

"What a hideous name the man has!" said Jim, irritably. "Of course you are devoted to him, Nancy?"

"Yes, he is so very good and clever and pleasant," she said, surprised at his vehemence.

"You are going to marry him, I suppose?" he said, with ill-concealed anger.

"You forget yourself, I think," she answered, with gentle dignity. "And whom I may marry can be no possible concern of yours."

"O, none, of course," he said, furiously. "Only you might have told me the truth when you broke off our engagement. It would have been just as easy to say that you were engaged to some one else at once."

"You are entirely mistaken in thinking that I am engaged to anyone," said Nancy, calmly. "Mr. Penstone is married and old enough to be my father. Shall we go in now, or have you any other interesting accusations to make?"

"Forgive me, Nancy, I was a fool!" pleaded Jim, earnestly. "I forget sometimes that I have not still the right to speak to you on such matters. For five years I have thought of you as my promised wife, and now that I am with you I cannot always realize that you are mine no longer. Say, that you forgive me, Nancy, for my rough-ness and presumption."

After this quarrel Jim found it impossible to be on the same footing of friendship with Nancy. She was colder and more constrained than ever in her manner toward him, and he was too proud and too manly to force his love on her, believing that she disliked him; and at last, after a bitter struggle with himself, he determined to return to India at once.

He had never been to the Ness lately without some valid reason, and this new decision was so good an excuse for calling that he was not slow in taking advantage of it. He found Nancy in the garden, arrayed in a large white sun bonnet, busy gathering strawberries for tea.

"I am going back to India; I have had enough of England."

"To India? At once? O, why?" she asked piteously, growing very white and looking at him with frightened eyes.

"Do you care, Nancy?" he asked eagerly. "Would you rather I stayed?"

"My wishes have nothing to do with the matter," she said, rather bitterly.

"Indeed, they have," he said, very earnestly. "Nancy, tell me, would you rather I stayed?"

"If I say yes, would you stay?" she asked, quietly.

"Only if you loved me," he said. "I cannot stay on and see you day after day, and feel that you will never care for me. May I stay, Nancy?"

"If you like," she answered shyly.

"There is one thing I want to know," he said, presently, looking down into her eyes; "when did you begin to love me, dear?"

"When did you begin to love me?" she replied, blushing under his gaze.

"I don't know; I have loved you all my life," he answered.

"I don't know, either," she said; "when I was about four or five, I think."

"But, my darling, you broke off our engagement," he said, wonderingly.

"Yes, from your letters I thought I did not love you. They were so stupid —I—I mean—"

"Yes; they were stupid, but yours were silly, too, and I thought that was the kind of things you liked," he said, intelligence dawning in his eyes.

"I thought you were terribly boyish, so wrote very 'young' letters, thinking they would interest you," she said, beginning to laugh.

"We both fell into the same mistake, then," he said, laughing, too.—Waverly Magazine.

Iron in Milk.

Cow's milk is almost at the bottom of the list of the food substances that contain iron. As it is so important to infant life, Prof. Bunge has been led to experiment on animals to see in what proportion iron is present in the system at different ages. He finds that the younger animals contain much more iron than adults. In a guinea pig or rabbit one hour old, for instance, there is more than four times as much iron as in the same animals ten and a half months old. He infers from this that a long-continued exclusive milk diet is not good for babies, but should be supplemented by wheat preparations.

Reptiles or Monarchy.

In 1871, before the French national assembly had decided whether the new constitution was to be monarchial or republican, the count of Paris visited the palace at Versailles. As he entered the door Jules Simon met him and bowing said: "If we are in a republic, you are in my house and I shall be delighted to do the honors. If we are in a monarchy, I am in yours." The count laughed and said: "Let us go in together."

WORD HISTORY.

THE word idea formerly meant a completed performance, whether mental or physical.

PRAGMATICAL originally meant nothing more than complete absorption in business affairs.

GOODBY is an abbreviation of an old English form of parting: "God be with you until we meet."

VILLAIN once meant the serf who belonged to the farm and was bought, sold or exchanged with it.

THE word lonbey, now applied to a rude young woman, formerly meant a rude young man or boy.

ADIEU formerly signified to God. It was an abbreviation of a benediction used by friends when parting.

FURLONG was at first a furrow long, or the distance that a pair of oxen would plow in half an hour.

A VAGABOND was originally only a traveler or person who went from place to place with or without a definite object.

A HEATHEN was originally a dweller on the German heaths, the last localities in Germany to accept the Christian religion.

HATS AND HEAD GEAR.

THE standard weight of an English silk hat is four ounces.

GRASS hats are common in China and the South Sea islands.

STRAW hats are believed to have been first invented in Manilla.

THE size of the Turkish turban formerly indicated the rank of the wearer.

MANY royal crowns are merely silk-wadded caps ornamented with jewels and pendants.

THE ancient cap worn at the time of Alexander the Great is still to be seen in Paris.

THE German warriors from the fifth century to the tenth wore horns on their helmets.

IN the fifteenth century plumed hats with wide brims became fashionable all over Europe.

THE helmets of the medieval knights always bore the colors of the wearer's mistress.

BUSBY-LIKE bearskin caps are still frequently seen in the dominions of Prince Ferdinand.

HAT "bodies" have been made of cork, of willow, of palmetto and many other substances.

No Chance of Being Caught.

Judge Andrews, of Georgia, used to tell an amusing story of the way in which he was once "taken down" by one of his audience during a political address. He was a candidate for governor of his state and was explaining to the crowd of people that had assembled to hear him how his friends had pressed him to be a candidate and that the office was seeking him; he was not seeking the office. "In fact," he exclaimed, "the office of governor has been following me for the last ten years!" At this point a tall countryman at the rear of the audience rose. "But here's yer consolation, judge," he shouted. "You're gainin' on it all the time! It'll never catch you!" This cheering prophecy proved to be quite correct, in spite of the mirth it provoked at the time of its utterance.

Compliments.

The epigrams of Voltaire, the French philosopher, were often ruthlessly sarcastic and severe. He could, however, exercise tact and gentleness, and, as is usually the case with brilliant persons, those qualities became him wonderfully well. He met the famous statesman Turgot, and cordially inquired about his health. "It is as you see," replied Turgot. "I am tormented with gout. I can hardly drag my feet about." "You remind me of the statue of Nebuchadnezzar, M. Turgot!" "Yes," asserted the invalid, sadly, "you are right, poet, the statue had feet of clay." "And a head of gold," cried Voltaire, warmly. "Remember that, a head of gold!"—Youth's Companion.

Calm Answer to the Judge.

Robert McLean, of Greensboro, N. C., was once practising before Judge Longee, when he lost the temper at some ruling and used some petulant expression. Instantly the judge said: "Mr. McLean, the court does not understand you. Do you mean to express contempt for the court?" Recovering his temper, McLean, bluntly himself, said with the greatest good humor: "I hope your honor will not press that question."

BATTLE OF GERMS.

How the Infusorian Attacks and Devours Its Prey.

Its Singular Method of Multiplying Itself—The Wonders of a Drop of Water as Revealed by a Powerful Microscope.

To the ordinary mortal, a drop of water is what the primrose was to Peter Bell, a drop of water and nothing more; but to the student of nature, armed with a high power microscope, it immediately becomes a world teeming with living creatures, the most minute representatives of animal life. These thoughts were suggested by reading Prof. Grace's description of a battle he once witnessed while examining a collection of rotifers, which were amassed in a single drop of fresh water. Among others, Mr. Grace noticed a fine specimen of infusorian, which was swimming back and forth among the rotifers, as if intent on mischief. On the following day it was noticed that the rotifer colony had lost several of its members, and that the infusorian's form had rounded out until he resembled a miniature St. Louis bartender. Mr. Grace now resolved to watch the infusorian's movements and ascertain, if possible, the modus operandi whereby the capture of such expert swimmers as the rotifers are known to be was effected. A few minutes' wait sufficed. Soon it was noticed that the infusorian was slowly and continuously working his way around the foot of a rotifer, which was resting on the glass slide.

Around and around he went as slyly as a mouse in an oats bin, and when he had finished it was noticed that the rotifer's foot was firmly cemented to the glass. The infusorian, seeming to know that his victim was secure, began to gnaw the tethered creature and torment it in all the ways that devilish ingenuity could suggest. He would jump upon its back and bite it in several places with lightning-like rapidity and then spring off and seize a leg and pull it almost from its socket. Mr. Grace says that he watched this unequal combat for nearly half an hour, when it was noticed that the rotifer was dying from exhaustion. During the death of his victim the infusorian proceeded to devour his prey as he doubtless had done the others that were missing. Mr. Grace next examined a small body of water, consisting of four drops, in which there were several infusorians and rotifers. The former proved the enemies of the latter, just as in the single drop previously examined. It was also noticed that the infusoria, having devoured a victim, would almost immediately divide into two or four new animals, each of which would quickly swim away in search of prey, just as its parent had done before.—St. Louis Republic.

UNCANNY NINE-PINS.

A Manchester Man Tells of a Beheaded German Criminal.

In an imperial city lately a criminal was condemned to be beheaded who had a singular liking to play at nine-pins. While his sentence was pronouncing he had the temerity to offer a request to be permitted to play once more at his favorite game at the place of execution, and then, he said, he would submit without a murmur.

As the last prayer of a dying man his request was granted. When he arrived at the solemn spot he found everything prepared, the pins being set up and the bowl ready. He played with no little earnestness, but the sheriff at length seeing that he showed no inclination to desist, privately ordered the executioner to strike the fatal blow as he stooped for the bowl.

The executioner did so and the head dropped into the culprit's hand as he raised his head to see what had occurred; he immediately aimed at the nine, considering that it was the bowl which he grasped. All nine falling, the head loudly exclaimed: "I have won the game."

The South African Plain.

The plains here stretch in illimitable expanse to the horizon. Far to the west is a range of mountains, forty good miles away, which in the clear morning air stands out as if but a dozen miles distant. You may see the dark lines and patches of the timber-worn seams and breaches that scar its sides. This transparency of atmosphere is very common in southern Africa.

The rains have lately fallen, and everywhere around the dry plains have started at the breath of moisture into a splendid if short-lived beauty. Miles upon miles of flats, all glowing and ablaze with purple and a rich flame-like red, are spread around. The wonderful composites are in flower, and the barren, desert-like flats are for a few brief weeks transformed into a carpet of the softest coloring and pattern. Look closely and you may see the bleached and blackened limbs of former growths of low shrubs which stand amid the gallant show, grant reminders of the transitory existence of African flower life.—Blackwood's Magazine.

Smoking in Court.

Commenting on the fact that not long ago a pastor of a church in the Whitechapel district in London announced from the pulpit that in future the hearers might smoke their pipes during service if they chose, Independence Belge says there is nothing so very strange about that. In the Mexican courts of law, it says, the smoking of cigars is sanctioned by many custom; there one may often see a prisoner puffing away at the fragrant weed while answering the questions put to him by the judge, and the latter accurately adds to the general smoke. Mexican teachers reward their diligent pupils by giving them permission to smoke cigars or cigarettes during school hours, and whenever the worthy pedagogue is in good humor the schoolroom is thick with smoke. Smoking begets thirst; hence on the teacher's desk stands a huge jar filled with "pulque," the national beverage, to refresh the labor and labored.

Stories About Cats.

The cat is a much maligned animal. Because it creeps softly after its prey, it is called sly; because it is domestic in its tastes and stays at home, we say it is ungrateful, and when it resents abuse with a scratching, we maintain that it is treacherous. Yet cats have been known to die of grief when their mistress died, and in many ways they exhibit intelligent traits for which we rarely give them credit. A Maine lad tells of the remarkable sagacity of a pet cat which he owns. The feline has a great fondness for the flesh of birds, and in order to make her quest for the same successful employs a stratagem. Evidently understanding that little like mischievous, she collects a number and buries them in the ground. She then lies near by, and when the birds alight to scent their coveted morsel she springs from her concealment and pounces upon them. Many a bird thus falls a prey to puss's shrewdness.

THE BRAVEST OF WOMEN.

She Catches a Rat with the Aid of Her Skirts.

Oregon has had a number of women who have distinguished themselves in various ways, some in literature, some in art, some as slayers of wild beasts, others as increasers of the population, some by climbing mountains, others by tumbling down them, and so on; but a deed of bravery has lately been done by a Portland woman which it is quite certain no other woman in the state, and probably no other woman in the world, has nerve enough even to attempt. This woman, says the Morning Oregonian, is employed in a large establishment on Third street, and her name must be kept secret to prevent the place being overrun by people anxious to see the woman who is so brave.

There are quite a number of other women employed in the same room, as well as several men. A day or two since a rat strayed into the room and could not find its way out, and the men started in to catch and kill him. This was easier said than done, for the rat was agile and daring, and fled from one ambush to another, while the women and girls flew upon chairs and tables, and would have perched on the ceiling like flies if they had been able.

There was one exception—the brave woman who has immortalized herself. She stood her ground, and finally, when the rat had been poked from behind a barrel and was dashing across the floor almost over her feet, she "scrunched" down and let her skirts touch the floor and captured the rat, and when it endeavored to push its way out she smothered it over the head and laid it out. This is a fact, and if any person in any country can produce a similar case of bravery and presence of mind on the part of a woman he can take the bakery.

ABSOLUTELY IRRESISTIBLE.

A Civilized Indian Who Had to Go Back to His Wild Life.

An instance of unexpected outbreak of natural tendency is given in "Sunny Manitoba," illustrative of the Indian's inherent wildness and love of outdoor life. A young Indian of more than ordinary ability was sent to McGill college, Montreal, to be educated for the ministry. He worked very hard, carried off many prizes and distinguished himself in every way, as a student in the theological hall.

Eventually he entered the ministry, became a popular preacher and for twelve months everything promised well. But one Sunday evening he astonished the church officers by announcing, without a word of explanation, that the church would be closed for six months.

With the readiness instinctively he listened to remonstrance, and then hurried home. There he doffed his clerical broadcloth and at three o'clock the following morning was seen running through the town clothed in an Indian blanket with painted face and a plume of feathers on his head.

A party of the tribe of which he was a member had arrived on that Sunday morning, and the sight of their copper, their instruments of killing and the chase had stirred the native blood in him, and he yielded to the overmastering temptation to cast in his lot with them.

At the writing of the book the six months had not elapsed, and no one yet knew whether he would return to the pulpit.

EBENSBURG, CAMBRIA CO., PA.,

FRIDAY, - - NOVEMBER 8, 1895.

Of the 24 speakers of the national house of representatives, comprising some of the greatest statesmen and popular public men, only one, James K. Polk, of Tennessee, became president of the United States. The Philadelphia Bulletin draws from this the lesson that "the personal antagonisms which the place engenders will leave Mr. Reed weaker next spring than he is to-day as a presidential possibility."

LATER returns indicate the election of Wells, Republican candidate for governor over Caine Democrat, by 1,000 to 1,500 majority in Utah. Roberts, Democrat, candidate for congress, is probably elected over Allen, Republican, by 500 majority. Democrats elect district judges. Salt Lake City election goes to the Republicans by decreased majorities. The legislature will be safely Republican, which insures two United States senators for the party.

OFFICIAL returns will show the election of John M. Bailey, Democrat, for president judge, by about 1,200 majority in the Huntingdon Mifflin district. He has carried Mifflin county by 700, and Huntingdon county will give him at least 500. Last year Hastings carried Huntingdon county by over 2,000. The defeat of Williamson, Republican, has been crushing. He carried but few of the fifty-nine districts in the county. David Wilson Democrat, is elected sheriff over T. I. C. Ripple by several hundred.

LATER and more complete returns have added materially to the earlier returns in the vote for Smith, Democrat, for superior court judge, particularly in the anthracite coal counties, where Smith gets a remarkably large vote over that of the other Democratic candidates for superior court judge. These later returns now leave it doubtful whether Yerkes or Smith will be the minority representative on the superior court bench, with the prospect that the returns from the missing counties will show that Smith has the larger vote of the two. The other Democratic candidates run considerably behind Yerkes and Smith.

THE new Carnegie library, donated to the city of Pittsburg by the noted iron king, was formally dedicated on Wednesday night. Addresses were made by Andrew Carnegie, Governor Hastings and other distinguished gentlemen.

W. N. Frew, president of the board of trustees, says that Mr. Carnegie intends increasing his gift by another $1,000,000 for the establishment of a fund for the purchase of works for the art gallery. He said that this would furnish a yearly income of $50,000 for that purpose. This last donation will bring the sum of Mr. Carnegie's gifts to the population of the Greater Pittsburg to the splendid total of $5,000,000.

THIS week's American Agriculturist has a valuable article on the potato crop of the country for 1895. It seems that this year's yield is something phenomenal—no other year approaching its magnificent total. The crop measures up over 282,000,000 bushels, against only 185,000,000 last year.

The Pacific coast is the only region where the crop shows a falling off, while the Empire state largely takes the lead with over 40,500,000 bushels, against 28,500,000 bushels last year.

The percentage of increase is none the less marked in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, and indeed, everywhere in the Central and Western states.

Canada is no exception to the rule of a bountiful crop, the one 1895 yield closely approximating 57,000,000 bushels, a material increase over last year's crop.

PETER P. SMITH, of Scranton, who is the successful Democrat elected on the superior bench one of the foremost lawyers of the state was born at Honesdale, Wayne county, June 2. 1851. He attended the public schools and later the Honesdale academy, of which he is a graduate. The natural bent of his mind being toward the legal profession. He entered upon the study of the law and was admitted to the Wayne county bar on May 7, 1874. He immediately took a commanding place among the practioners at the bar, and in 1875 was nominated and elected district attorney of Wayne county. At the expiration of his term he was renominated, but declined in order to give individual attention to his rapidity increasing private practice in Wayne and adjoining counties.

Eight years ago Mr. Smith moved to the city of Scranton, where he has a large practice, and has been engaged in some of the most important cases arising in the courts. He was appointed additional law judge by governor Pattison in December, 1892, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Connolly, and discharged the duties of the office with such distinguished ability and impartionality as to earn the highest commendations of members of the bar, without regard to party affiliations.

Judge Smith was nominated by the Democrats to succeed himself, without opposition, and his address of acceptance, in which he discussed the functions, responsibilities and privileges of the judiciary, was one of the most dignified and scholary expositions of the subject to be found. He received by far the largest vote ever cast for a Democratic candidate for judge in Lackawanna county, but was defeated by a very narrow margin, notwithstanding the great tidal wave of Republicanism.

THE Philadelphia Times of Wednesday morning gives the following editorial summary of the result of the election.

The Republicans had a political picnic yesterday with only the Democratic victory in Mississippi to mar the completeness of their triumph. The elections were simply a repetition of the Democratic slump of last year, differing only in degree.

In Massachusetts the Republicans have swept the state by about their usual majority. There was a feeble effort made by the A. P. A.'s to defeat the Republican candidate for governor, but he rallied to his support the entire independent vote of the state, and seems to have gained from that element quite equal to his loss.

In New York Tammany has carried the city by a comparatively small majority, but it is quite large enough to show that Tammany is again on top, and that the disjointed reform elements of the city have broken in pieces. The state is Republican by fully half the majority of last year and probably more, carrying both branches of the legislature.

The Republicans hold New Jersey by a majority of probably one-fourth of that received last year on the congressional vote, but it is large enough to give them possession of every department of authority in the state, and to anchor New Jersey as a more than probable Republican state next year. When so excellent a candidate as Chancellor McGill can be defeated by a large majority in a square fight, it means that the Democrats of New Jersey have hopelessly lost their grip and might as well go into liquidation.

Maryland gives a sweeping revolution in favor of the Republicans. They have carried both the city of Baltimore, electing their entire ticket, and also the state by a large majority, with the legislature that is to elect a United States Senator. It seems to be an utter overthrow of the Gorman power.

In Ohio the Republicans have carried the entire state ticket and both branches of the legislature, by even more than the normal majority of the party. Their majority on the state ticket is probably quite one-half of the phenomenal majority of last yenr.

In Iowa the Republcans swept the state. Of course the success of the entire state ticket was conceded on all sides, and the only dispute was as to the majority. It is now quite large enough to show that the Democratic organization of the state is pretty well retired from business.

Even Kentucky is included in the general Republican hurricane. The entire state ticket seems to be elected by majorities ranging from 8,000 to 15,000, but the legislature is in doubt. This is the first triumph the Republicans of Kentucky have ever achieved since the organization of the Republican party.

Nebraska, a strong Republican state, was naturally carried largely by the Republicans, as the Democrats divided squarely on the silver issue, and had two tickets in the field.

AS THE first telegraphic flashes of election returns are succeeded by actual figures, says the Philadelphia Record, it is made clear that the backward swing of the political pendulum has begun. The phenomenal Republican victory of 1894 marked the topmost limit of reaction. This year, although the Democrats remain dispirited, benumbed and inactive, the Republicans show no added capability of offense. Their majorities have been reduced. Where the Democrats have been beaten in Democratic states as a rule they have not deserved to be victorious. The defeat in Kentucky of the free silver candidate for governor is of more worth to the Democratic party than would have been an undesirable victory involving the reputation of an honest money platform. In Maryland, New Jersey and New York the party could not save itself from the consequences of past mistakes and misconduct and from the burden of a discredited leadership by taking refuge behind the names of reputable men who were put forward as candidates.

The lesson of the election in Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Kentucky is of one tenor. No party can govern the country that is not true to itself. The Democracy can only maintain the confidence of the people by putting aside the huckstering professional leadership with which the party has been cursed, and which has turned its past triumphs into defeats.

The Republican victories of this year, where they have not been the outcome of revolt against a demoralizing Democratic leadership, have been the fruits of apathetic discouragement. The Democrats have simply laid down and let their political opponents walk over them. For this state of things the remedy is reorganization, and a leadership that will have both head and heart in it. The movement in this direction cannot begin a day too soon.

ONE of the most noteworthy events in the recent history of Canada is the formation of a new political party, under the uncompromising title of the Independence of Canada Club. The platform declares that "the Dominion has arrived at such a stage of growth and development as to be able to maintain herself as an independent nation." This movement is the germ of what seems to political thinkers—such, for instance, as Mr. Bryce—to be the ultimate destiny of Canada. There can certainly be little doubt that Canada's next constitutional step will be to secure political independence of Great Britain. Once free from Britannia's apron-strings, and with a federal instead of confederate form of government, Canada would promptly realize the value and need of sisterhood with the United States.

THERE is not much comfort for Democrats in the election news.

Washington Letter.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1, 1895.—President Cleveland has, in accordance with his usual custom, moved from the White House out to his suburban residence, in order to be able to put in more time upon his message to congress than he could do when liable to almost constant interruptions from callers whom he would not care to decline seeing. These he is entirely free from at his suburban residence, as no one goes there to call upon him, unless specially invited. While not stated as a certainty, there are reasons for the belief that his annual message to congress will not deal with the diplomatic controversy with England over the application of the Monroe doctrine in Venzuela, further that to say that the whole subject will be fully treated in a special message which will follow the annual message and be accompanied by the diplomatic correspondence. The president and every member of his cabinet are well pleased with the present status of this Venzuela matter, and very confident that they will be still better pleased a little later. A diplomatic victory is preferable to one achieved by the use of powder and ball, in some cases. And this is one of the cases.

If proof were needed that the real purpose of the public meeting held last night, for the avowed purpose of expressing the sympathy of the citizens of Washington for the Cuban revolutionists, was to embarrass the administration and make Republican partisan capital it was furnished in great big chunks by the names of those who controlled the meeting, made the speeches and wrote the resolutions adopted. Every man of them was a Republican. The presiding officer was the notorious "corporal" Tanner; the writer of the resolutions was Dr. Rankin, president of the Howard University, the negro college which is partly maintained at public expense, and the only woman speaker was Mrs. John A. Logan.

Judge Lochren, Commissioner of pensions, has a paragraph in his annual report headed "Patriotism and Pensions," in which he says those who fought the battles of the war were not moved by mercenary considerations, and unless actually disabled did not show the haste in applying for pensions manifested by those who enlisted near the close of the war for large bounties, and did little actual service, and who are now the noisiest in clamoring for more pensions. As compared with this latter class the real soldiers of the war have been modest in preferring claims for pensions." The figures in the report are interesting. June 30th, 1894, there were on the rolls 969, 544 pensioners; during the year following 39,285 new names were added and 4,205 names which had been dropped were restored. There were 27,816 deaths, and 14,575 names were dropped for other causes, making the net increase of the total number of pensioners for the fiscal year ending June 30, last 860. The appropriation for the year covered by the report was $150,000,000, and Judge Lochren's estimate for the next fiscal year is $140,000,000.

Ex-Congressman Bynum, of Ind., is one of the few men who regards Mr. Harrison's chances for the Republican nomination as being ahead of either those of Reed, McKinley or Allison. He says Mr. Harrison is stronger with his party in Indiana than ever before and that the Indiana Republicans are going to get him nominated, if such a thing is possible. Speaking of the Democratic nomination Mr. Bynum said: "On the Democratic side there is much talk in favor of Col. Morrison, and he has many friends in all parts of the country. My opinion is that eventually Democratic sentiment will center on Secretary Carlisle. He is well liked in the North and East, and in the South his nomination would create tremendous enthusiasm."

Representative Gorman of Ill., who has been on the stump in Kentucky, Maryland and New Jersey, arrived in Washington this week. He says he hasn't the slightest doubt that all three states will go Democratic.

Secretary Olney has received a copy of the proceedings of the French court martial which sentenced the negro Waller, who is a Ex U. S. Consul, to twenty years imprisonment under the charge of having betrayed French military movements in Madagascar and the wife of the imprisoned man has given the secretary all the information in her possession, documentary and otherwise.

It cannot be stated what Mr. Olney thinks of the case, but others who have had access to the information regard the outlook for Waller as a bad one, and say that the case has been misrepresented for political effect by certain Republican newspapers.

Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador, and Secretary Olney are engaged in negotiating a convention to determine the amount of damages sustained by the owners of Canadian sealing vessels which were seized in Bering Sea by this government before the arbitration of the claims of the two countries. It is expected that it will be completed before congress meets. M.

Thief was Thrashed.

Belleville, N. J., Nov. 5.—A sneak thief received a warm reception at the hands of Mrs. Daniel Neely, of Mill street, yesterday morning. About 9 o'clock a man entered the yard and, going to the back door of the house, tried it. Finding it locked the stranger went over to a clothesline and taking a suit of clothes, which had been put out for an airing, went into an outhouse. Mrs Neely hearing the noise at the back door, looked out of the window in time to see the man disappear. At the same time Mrs. Neely discovered that the suit of clothes, which was owned by one of her boaders, had also disappeared.

Judging that the man had taken the suit of clothes, Mrs. Neely armed herself with a large club and took up a position at the door of the outhouse. When the man came out she demanded that he return the clothes. The stranger, who was over six feet in height and built proportionately, denied the theft. His bulky form, however, showed that he had tucked the stolen articles under his coat, Prodding him with the end of the club, Mrs. Neely compelled the man to give up the stolen suit and, after beating the thief unmercifully with the club, while her neighbors urged her on, she allowed him to go limping from the yard.

According to the Chambersburg Spirit, Philadelphia is a bad horse market at present. One dealer from Franklin county took a car load of horses down last week and one of the horses that he paid $40 for and freight, sold for $30. Other dealers who were in the market did not fare any better than did Mr. Zullinger. He saw a fine pair of driving horses, well matched, five years old and sound all over, sold for $62 for the pair. A bay horse five years old, sound and fine appearing, guaranteed to go in less than three minutes, to be returned after a month's trial if not satisfactory, went for $75. Prices for heavy work horses were very little better. It is safe to say that no horses will be shipped to Philadelphia from this section for some time.

Ready for the Wedding.

New York, November 5.—W. K. Vanderbilt, his daughter, Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, and the duke of Marlborough met at the home of Mrs. Vanderbilt at 24 East eventy-second street this morning and signed the papers affectin the marriage settlements. Mrs. Vanderbilt was not present. Mr. Vanderbilt drove to the house with his lawyer, J Henry Anderson. A few minutes later the duke arrived with his solicitor, Milward Harding. An hour was spent in going over the terms and finally the papers were signed, by Miss Vanderbilt, her father and her prospective husband It was subsequently learned on good authority that by the terms of the settlement Miss Vanderbilt gets a dowry of $5,000,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay will this evening entertain the Duke and his prospective bride at dinner.

Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt will become the duchess of Marlborough at noon to morrow. The marriage will be celebrated in St. Thomas' church, in the presence of 1,500 invited guests. The wedding will, without doubt, surpass in elaboration of details any previous wedding ever solemnized in this city. The high rank in England of the young bridegroom and the great wealth of the bride's family have caused their nuptials to attract a vast deal of attention. The time for the ceremony has been fixed for twelve o'clock. The clergymen who are to take part in the ceremony will be in the chancel at the time. Bishop Littlejohn will officiate, assisted by Bishop Potter and Dr. John Wesley Brown.

An Exciting Deer Hunt.

John G. Simpson and William Carnes, of Philadelphia, had an exciting deer hunt in Pike county last Thursday, in which Mr. Carnes came near losing his life. They had secured the services of Peter Mayer, the well known guide, who had placed them on the Woodtown runway near two or three runways leading to Walker Pond, in Shohola township. Mayer left them there to drive in the game. An hour's wait brought a big buck bounding up the Bald Hill runway. When opposite Mr. Carnes he fired a charge of buckshot which brought the deer partially down. Mr. Simpson followed with a ball from his rifle and the deer fell over on its side. Both men came from cover with knives in hand to cut the animal's throat.

The buck, badly wounded, jumped to its feet, and, catching Mr. Simpson with its antlers, tossed him over a boulder, and then attacked Mr. Carnes, striking him with its hoofs and felling him to the ground. The infuriated beast pawed the prostrate man on his breast and arms, inflicting severe injuries. He would probably have been killed had not Mr. Mayer arrived, who sent a ball into the heart of the buck. It weighed 240 pounds dressed.

Vendig Blames Julian.

New York, November 5.—Three of the Hot Springs prize fighting contingent—Joseph H. Vendig, manager of the ill fated Florida Athletic club; James Kennedy, mananger of the Empire Athletic club, and "Charley" White, one of Fitzsimmons' trainers—arrived In New York last night. Vendig laid the blame for the fiasco upon Julian, who, he said, had mismanaged Fitzsimmons affairs from the beginning. He asserted his belief that Fitzsimmons was not afraid to meet Corbett. and the fight would have taken place but for Julian's poor work. He blamed Julian for the failure of Fitzsimmons to take a special train for Hot Springs, and thus evade the officers. Vendig said there was yet hope that the fight may be pulled off at El Paso.

Whalers Threatened With Starvation.

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—The schooner Rosario arrived from the Artic ocean, bringing 3,000 pounds of bone, the residue of a catch of five whales. She is the first of the whaling fleet to reach port from the north, and it is within the limits of possibility that she may be the last. When she left the ocean the ice was forming fast, and it was heavier than it has been for many years. The Rosario brings confirmation of the news of a very poor catch in the Artic. From the report of the Rosario it looks as if the entire fleet would be caught in the ice. The majority of the barks are provisioned with only enough stores to last them through the summer, and if they are compelled to spend the winter in the north starvation stares the whalers in the face.

An Election Day Murder.

Uniontown, Pa., November 5.—Mason Murphy, a well-known man of this place, was murdered at Lamont this evening at the polls. He became involved in a dispute over politics with a colored man named Osborn. A man named Morgan and Osborn followed Murphy around to provoke a conflict. When Murphy tried to avoid the negro, he drew a revolver and shot him twice through the heart, death ensuing instantly. The murderer escaped and is being hunted for. Murphy was a stable boss at the McClure coke works, and Morgan was a laborer at the same plant

Refused to Grant Increased Wages.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 4.—The Clearfield region bituminous coal miners met in mass meeting at Ramey, Pa., to hear the report of the committee that had been sent to Philadelphia. The committee reported that it failed to secure an advance in the mining rate, and also failed to secure a promise from the company to attend a joint conference of operators and miners. The company assured the committee that an increase was probable later on. The meeting adjourned without taking action. other than to resolve to continue their efforts for an increase.

Four Acres of Buildings Destroyed.

Arcadia, Ia., Nov. 4.—A fire visited Arcadia last night, and only one store is left in town. It burned over an area of four acres, taking with it six residences, hotels, opera house, one livery barn, one harness shop, two grain elevators, one lumber and one coal yard, barber shop, postoffice, two drug stores, two saloons, three general merchandise stores, one furniture store, one hardware store, one butcher shop, one vacant store room, one boot and shoe store and four barns. The estimated loss is $55,000, partly covered by insurance.

—A masked man entered the residence of Mrs. John Crawford, at New Wilmington, Pa., Saturday night, bound and gagged her and threw her into a closet. Nothing was taken from the house.

—At New Brighton, Pa., while William Couch and family were at church Sunday night, their residence was entered by thieves, and a large amount of jewelry and other valuables carried away.

—Benjamin Chandler, 23 years old, was accidently shot by his brother near Exmore, Va. The shot entered his side, penetrating the lungs, killing him instantly. He was highly respected and a very popular young man.

—Attorney General Moloney, of Illinois, has decided it is illegal for insurance companies or agents to enter into an agreement regarding rates for insurance, rebates, etc., and all parties to such agreements are liable to prosecution.

—Deer are plentiful in Pike county. Nine were killed in three days by New York and local porties. There is an unprecedented abundance of pheasants, quail, woodcock, rabbits and squirrels. The forest fires are driving the game together.

—Emanuel Myers, a York county farmer, who was recently appointed a minister by the German Baptists, arose to preach his first sermon. When he arose to speak he hesitated and the next moment he dropped dead. The doctors say the excitement and nervousness caused his death.

—With the exception of the Pocahontas and a few other coal regions, the output of bituminous coal is much greater this year than last. Up to October 5, the Clearfield region had increased over 700,000 tons, the tyrone and Clearfield over 750,000 tons, the Broad Top over 60,000 tons and Cumberland over 380,000 tons.

—Dr. S. A. Briggs was flogging his fourteen-year-old son at Ingalls, Ohio, on Monday because the boy did not heed certain orders about chores about the house, when young Briggs pulled a revolver and shot his father through the arm and body from which Dr. Briggs will die. The son was arrested. Dr. Briggs is well known.

—Conductor Richard Barnett, of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway, was dangerously shot by a gang of train robbers on Monday night. Barnett was approaching Erie from Buffalo with his train and had his head out of the window watching for signals. Three men rushed upon the train and fired. The ball tore through his skull.

—A dispatch to the Philadelphia Press from Martinsburg, Blair county, Pa., says: "The Tussey Mountain Mining and Smelting company may yet have a bonanza in its mineral plant near Henrietta in this county. Recently an analysis of the gold bearing quartz was made, and it was found to assay $30.000 to the car load. This is equal to the best quartz, even in the most notable gold fields."

—An earthquake shock, lasting eleven seconds, was felt at Rome on Friday morning. Many houses swayed badly, walls were cracked, pictures and other articles fell from the walls and other places, people ran panic stricken into the streets, and serious disaster was feared for a time. However, the first shock ended the disturbance, and the frightened inhabitants returned to their homes. No serious damage was done.

—News was received at Huron, S. D., that the St. Stephen mission, on the Crow reservation, twenty-five miles from Highmore, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday. The buildings were erected by Miss Kate Drexel, nine years ago, for the Indian school, and were under the supervision of the Roman Catohlics. The loss is $25,000, partly covered by insurance. Several Indian children narrowly escaped being burned to death, the buildings will be rebuilt.

—The H. C. Frick Coke company has purchased the entire plants, property and franchises of the W. J. Rainey Coke company, the third largest producers of coke in the Connellsville region. The money consideration was about $2,250. This purchase, together with the gigahtic transaction of Saturday, by which the H. C. Frick company, in consideration of about $3,985,000, came in possession of the McClure Coke company property, leaves but one company of any size in the Connellsville region over which the Frick company has no control—that of Brown & Cochran.

—Theodore Durrant, the murderer of Blanche Lamont, in San Francisco, was found guilty by the jury Friday afternoon. The jury was out twenty-eight minutes. The verdict was received with a shout of applause from the auditors who packed the court room. Now that Durrant has been convicted of the murder of Blanche Lamont, in San Francisco, it is to be hoped that there will be a speedy execution of the law in the punishment of the criminal. The jury, after listening to the evidence for six weeks, were less than half an hour in arriving at a verdict of guilty, which is evidence that the crime had been clearly fastened upon Durrant, and there should be no dallying with the case after such a long, fair and impartial trial.

When the Chill Mists of the Morning

Hang like a pall over the surface of the earth, it will be well for you before venturing into the raw vaporous air, charged, perhaps, with the seeds of malaria or provocative of rheumatic twinges, to take a wineglassful of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and thus shield yourself from atmospheric influences threatening to health. If you happen to get snowed, sleeted or rained upon, use the same preventative, and avoid the rheumatism, or a dangerous cold. The agreeable warmth infused it to the circulation by this genial stomachic, its invigorating and regulating properties commend it to all appreciative of the fact that prevention is better than cure. Use the Bitters for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervousness and kidney trouble, sick headache and debility.

This store is reaching out for more business and getting it with choice goods at prices that are in the interest of people's pocket books, of which the following are examples:

Large lot of Red and Black

All-Wool Suitings,

Medium rough effects—which on account of style and value, for the money, is the most important offering of Dress Goods this year. They're 45 inches—yard and a quarter wide—and 50C. A YARD.

We want every one of you to send and get samples of these and then you'll know when this store advertises anything extraordinary it is that.

100 pieces assorted all-wool

Cheviot Suitings,

In neat mixture effects, choice colorings—all 50 inches wide—50C.

It's not only these extraordinary 50c. lines we're calling attention to, but as representation of a general line from 10c. to to $4.50 a yard that we believe is without equal in this country, and we'll send you samples when you write for them to see what you think, and if it isn't the same thing then we're very much mistaken in the wonderful values—but we don't think we are.

Several cases of late things from Europe in Dress Goods. Novelty Suitings and Tailorings, 75c. to $1.50 that will convince you where it's best for you to buy Dry Dry Goods.

In the county for State Treasurer, William H. Berry, Prohibition, had 254 votes; George W. Dawson, People's, had 135 votes, and George Anton, Socialist Labor, had 22 votes. For Judges of the Superior Court, the Republican candidates had as follows: James A. Beaver, 5835; Edward N. Willard had 5836; John J. Wickham had 5839; Charles E. Rice had 5848; Howard J. Reeder had 5842, and George B. Orlady had 5823 votes. The Democratic candidates had as follows: Harman Yerkes, 4827; James S. Moorhead, 4831; Charles Henry Noves, 4807; Peter P. Smith, 4824; Oliver P. Bechtel, 4869, and Christopher Magee, 4821. The Prohibition candidates had as follows: Campbell, 227; Lathrope, 224; Sterlit, 229; Vail, 227; Hoffer, 225, and Stevens, 232. The People's candidates had as follows: Stevenson, 142; Couchlin, 143, and Rheem 142.

The Prohibition vote on county officers was as follows: Prothonotary, I. R. Baer, 211; Register and Recorder, Daniel W. Walter, 204; Poor Director, J. T. Peterson, 212; Coroner, D. W. Angus, 210; Surveyor, M. M. Thomas, 220.

The People's vote on county officers was as follows: Prothonotary, Michael P. Kearney, 135; Register of Wills, Anselm B. Kirsch, 132; Poor Director, Thomas W. Hagan, 135; Coroner, G. H. Sloan, 150; Surveyor, Paul Yahner, 148.

—James F. Hoover, a brakeman on the Cresson and Clearfield branch of the Pennsylvania railroad, was painfully injured at Cresson on Thursday evening. He was making a coupling, when his left hand was caught between the couplers and ba dly crushed. He was removed to the Altoona hospital. The middle, ring and little fingers had to be amputated. The flesh of the palm of the hand, from the index finger to the base of the thumb, was lacerated. Hoover is 24 years old and resides in Altoona.

—Equity proceedings were instituted in the Blair county courts on Monday by the boroughs of Hollidaysburg and Gaysport, the Hollidaysburg board of health and 25 land owners against the city of Altoona, to prevent the pollution of the Juniata river above this point by depositing therein the city's sewage. The proceedings are the result of an inspection by State Inspector Matthews, of Johnstown, who reported to the State Board of Health that the emptying of sewage into the stream would be prejudical to the health of the two boroughs. The object of the proceed- compel the city to filter or burn tisings is to se age.

Suicide of an Old Citizen.

About 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening, Jonathan Horner, one of Johnstown s aged citizens, ended his life at his home, No. 424 Wood street, Seventh ward, Johnstown, by putting a bullet in his head.

About 7 o'clock Mr. Horner heated a brick, which he was in the habit of putting at the foot of his bed, and started to retire. After he had partially undressed in his bedroom, the report of a revolver was heard by his wife, who hastened to his room and found him lying on the floor gasping for breath, the revolver being tightly clutched in his right hand. He died in a few minutes and a jury empanneled by Coroner Martin found "That Jonathan Horner came to his death by discharging a revolver in his own hands, the barrel being in his mouth when it was discharged."

Mr. Horner was a native of Johnstown, aged 66 years and is survived by a wife, three daughters, four sons one sister and four brothers.

Another Murder.

On Monday morning about 12:30 Frank Visler, a Hungarian miner, went to the boarding house of Andros Melany, at Ben's Breek, stabbed and almost instantly killed Melany. He died in five minutes after being stabbed, the weapon entering between the third and fourth ribs. Melany was 28 years old and was employed by the Sonman Shaft Coal company, and leaves a wife and one child in Hungary. The murderer who was aged about 26 years made his escape. Coroner Martin, of Conemaugh, was notified and went to Ben's Creek at 1 P. M., and, after impanneling a jury, witnesses were examined and the following verdict was rendered: "That Andros Melany came to his death from wounds received from a knife in the hands of Frank Visler."

After committing the crime Visler fled and no trace of him up to this time has been secured by the officers. The victim was buried at Lilly on Wednesday.

Was He Foully Dealt With?

No trace of Jacob C. Grocast, of Black Hawk Beaver county, who married pretty Lulu Gertrude McClain, of the same place, on Thursday of last week, in Beaver Falls, and who left her in a dry-goods store in that place Friday while he went to hire a team to take them home, and never showed up again, cannot be found, although the police and his relatives have made a diligent search for him. His bride of 24 hours is now at her home, prostrated with grief.

At the livery stable Grocast took no pains to conceal a large sum of money he had in his pockets, and some of his friends now fear that he has been enticed away, robbed, and murdered. Others, who say that his parents were opposed to the marriage, think that Grocast, knowing this, has been afraid to face the music, and will eventually turn up all right.

—Saturday afternoon last David Confer, a boy of 13 years of age, was out in the woods near Cato, on the Beech Creek railroad, accompanied by his grandfather. The lad had a gun but the grandfather had none. While journeying through the woods in search of small game they came across a big black bear, which the boy shot and killed. The bear weighed about 200 pounds.

Obituary.

BROWN.—Died at his home, the Central Hotel, in Ebensburg, on Friday morning, November 1st, 1895, Mr. Patrick F. Brown, in the 43 year of his age.

Mr. Brown was born in Johnstown on June 25, 1853, he being the seventh of a family of seven children. His mother, who is seventy-eight years old, was married to Henry Brown in 1828, and in the fall of 1870, when the deceased was seventeen years old, his parents moved to Cambria township, where they lived until 1895. They then moved back to Johnstown, leaving their sons Joseph and Patrick on the Cambria township farm, and they continued to reside in Johnstown until 1878, when they moved to Wilmore, where the father—Henry Brown—died, at the age of eighty-four years. In 1881 the subject of this sketch moved into the Central Hotel, Ebensburg, of which he became proprietor, and in which, with the exception of one year, he remained until his death.

On January 13, 1877, Mr. Brown was married to Charlotte O'Hara, and to this union were born seven children, two of them dying in infancy. His wife died October 22, 1888, and after five years of single life, Mr. Brown united in marriage with Matilda McKenzie, in 1893. To this second wife, who survives him, were born two children. He is survived by seven children: Victoria, aged eighteen years; May, fifteen; Hugh, thirteen; Conrad, eleven; Reardon, eight; Harry, one year and ten months, and Sheldron, five months. Besides these he is survived by his aged mother, who lives in Wilmore; two brothers—Joseph and Henry—the former residing in Ebensburg, the latter in Morrellville, and two sisters—Mrs. David Gates, of Lower Yoder, and Mrs. Andrew Sarlouis, of Johnstown. Two Sisters—Mrs. Adolphus Jones and Mrs. John Hileman—preceded him to the grave.

Mr. Brown was of Catholic parents, and he was, till the time of his death, a consistant member of that church. He was a kind son to his mother, a loving husband and father to his family, and to all who knew him a true friend, obliging neighbor, and a true citizen.

His funeral took place at half-past ten o'clock on Monday morning, his remains being taken to the Catholic church in this place, where, after a Requiem High mass, they were interred in the Catholic cemetery.

HAYWOOD BY 150,000.

He Carries the State by an Immense Vote.

REPUBLICAN JUDGES ELECTED.

Indications Are That Judge Magee Has Been Elected to the Seventh Place on the Superior Court Bench—The Returns From Various Counties.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—Returns received up to midnight indicate that Benjamin J. Haywood, Republican, has been elected state treasurer by about 150,000 plurality, a Republican gain over 1893, which was also an off year, of about 15,000. This state also elects seven judges of the new superior court. Of these the six Republicans nominated are elected, as follows: James A. Beaver, Edward N. Willard, John J. Wickham, Charles K. Rice, Howard J. Reeder, George B. Orlady. The seventh man on the ticket is in doubt. The Democrats have six men on the ticket, and returns indicate that each of these has run ahead of the ticket in his own section. The choice apparently lies between Magee of Allegheny county, Smith, Lackawanna, and Erke, Bucks, with chances favoring the former.

In this city the Republican ticket is elected by an overwhelming majority. The ticket elected is as follows: Judge court of common pleas, Craig Biddle; district attorney, George S. Graham; recorder of deeds, William W. Geary; city comptroller, John M. Walton; coroner, Samuel H. Ashbridge; clerk of quarter sessions, William B. Ahern.

William W. Geary, who is regarded as David Martin's representative on the ticket, was cut to some extent, but not as much as had been expected. Complete returns from 18 out of 37 wards show Republican pluralities of 34,650. If this ratio is kept up, the plurality in this city will be fully 60,000.

ALTOONA, Nov. 6.—Sufficient returns have been received to indicate that Blair county will give the Republican ticket 3,500 majority.

LEBANON, Nov. 6.—Lebanon county gives 2,000 majority for the Republican party.

LANCASTER, Nov. 6.—Republicans carry the county by 1,500.

BEDFORD, Nov. 6.—Republicans carry the county by 900.

NORRISTOWN, Nov. 6.—Montgomery county went 1,100 Republican.

TOWANDA, Nov. 6.—Bradford county gives a Republican majority of 3,000 on the state ticket.

ERIE, Nov. 6.—The Republican judicial ticket will carry the city and county by 3,000 majority. Conrad J. Brown will be elected county treasurer over Captain Waidler by 3,000 majority and G. Sid Beavis will be elected poor director on the Republican ticket.

BEAVER, Nov. 6.—Wilson, Republican, will not have less than 1,000 over Buchanan, Democrat, and if the gains keep up will have 1,800. The state ticket will have 2,500 majority in the county, and it is difficult to estimate on so few returns. The interest has been concentrated on the judgeship, and nothing else was thought of.

BRADFORD, Nov. 6.—McKean county gives a Republican plurality of 1,500.

CLEARFIELD, Nov. 6.—The situation in doubt, with Democratic gains.

BELLEFONTE, Nov. 6.—Center county gives Meyers, for state treasurer, and the Democratic superior court judges, from 400 to 500 majority.

NEW CASTLE, Nov. 6.—For register and recorder Henry P. Sharer, Republican, has been elected, together with the full Republican ticket.

MERCER, Nov. 6.—Haywood's majority in the county will be nearly 1,500; superior court judges, 1,500; Moss, 1,500. There is about the usual Republican majority in the county.

GREENSBURG, Nov. 6.—The indications are that the entire Republican ticket in Westmoreland county is elected by large majorities.

KITTANNING, Nov. 6.—Armstrong county gives a plurality of 1,600 for Haywood. S. B. Gray was elected county surveyor.

TUNKHANNOCK, Nov. 6.—Wyoming county goes 1,600 Republican.

WELLSBORO, Nov. 6.—Republicans have 2,800 majority in Tioga county.

EAST STROUDSBURG, Nov. 6.—There is an estimated Democratic majority for state treasurer and superior court judges of 1,100 in Monroe county.

BROOKVILLE, Nov. 6.—A majority of 1,500 is indicated for Haywood in this county. Other Republican candidates run about the same.

BUTLER, Nov. 6.—Butler county goes Republican by about 1,000.

EMPORIUM, Nov. 6.—Cameron county gives a Republican majority on the state ticket of about 300.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 6.—C. L. Magee estimates that McDowell, Rep., for coroner, has 10,000 or 12,000 more votes than Graebing, making an allowance of a total vote of only from 5,000 to 6,000 votes for Sawyer. The returns were certainly too unsatisfactory to make any prediction on the judgship fight. Everyone concedes that Judge Magee, Democratic candidate for superior judge, is elected with a handsome majority.

MAUCH CHUNK, Nov. 6.—Returns indicate that Haywood, Rep., will have 200 to 300 majority in Carbon county

THEY SWEPT MARYLAND.

Republicans Get Everything Worth Having in the State and Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 6.—There seems to be no room for doubt that the Republicans have elected their entire state and city ticket, and that they will have a working majority in the next legislature, which will choose a successor to United States Senator Gibson. Even Howard county, the home of Senator Gorman, has apparently reversed its normal Democratic majority of 500 and gives Lowndes, Republican, for governor, a majority of at least that number of votes.

Baltimore city goes for the Republican ticket, both state and municipal, by majorities ranging from 6,000 to 8,000, and both branches of the city council will probably be Republican for the first time in many years. In fact there is not a leg left for the Democratic party to stand on in what has long been considered one of the safest Democratic states in the Union.

The Protectionists Barred.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—At a meeting of the chamber of agriculture the Rt Hon. J. J. Lowther, Conservative member of parliament for the Isle of Thanet division of Kent, said that the great bulk of the agriculturalists regarded protection as being the practical means of restoring agricultural prosperity; but added, everyone of that opinion had been vigorously excluded from the commission of agriculture.

Quarreled Over Politics.

WOODSITE, L. I., Nov. 6.—James Schenck, a socialist farmer, and a man by the name of Bowers have had a quarrel over politics. Bowers struck Schenck over the head with a horseshoe. Schenck is in a critical condition. The authorities are looking for Bowers.

Katahdin's Slowness Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. — Secretary Herbert has received the report of the trial board upon the ram Katahdin. The fact as to the performance of the vessel and her failure to achieve the speed required are substantially as given in the press dispatches.

Starts a Big Strike.

GLASGOW, Nov. 6.—The Clyde shipbuilders have posted notices which lock out 25 per cent of the employes of thier yards This precipitates the break which has long been expected as a result of the difficulty in the Belfast shipyards and begins the big strike.

REPUBLICANS WON.

They Carry Louisville, But Hardin Is Elected Governor of the State.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 6.—The chairman of the Republican county committee, with returns from two-thirds of the precincts before him, claims that the majority for Bradley in Jefferson county, including this city, will be 5,000. The 111 precincts reported give a Republican majority of 3,738. The Republicans have captured all of the offices, with three minor exceptions. In addition to this they have won the appellate judgeship and gained two representatives in the lower house of the legislature. The municipal officers elected are for the legislative branches of the city government, councilmen, school trustees, etc.

There is a dearth of news at the headquarters of the Democrats and Republicans. Reports are so meagre that Chairman Norman would say nothing more than that he believed Hardin was elected. He would not say by what majority nor why he was so impressed. At the Republican headquarters many private telegrams had been received from the chairmen of the county committees. Congressman Hunter, chairman of the state committee, was not favorably impressed with the returns from the interior. He said that a continuation of these reports would indicate the election of Hardin by a small majority. The Democratic majority four years ago for governor was 28,075. In another talk Chairman Norman refused to reiterate his claim that Hardin's majority would reach 15,000.

The Post (Dem.) says: At this writing, the returns are coming in scattering from all portions of the state. It appears that Hardin leads the Democratic ticket but it also appears that Bradley leads Hardin, or, if not, Hardin's majority is so small as to amount to a virtual defeat.

DRAKE PROBABLY ELECTED.

Iowa Democrats Lose to the Populists, Who Poll a Heavy Vote.

DES MOINES, Nov. 6.—The Republican gains over two years ago are now running nearly 24 to a precinct. This will give Drake, Republican, for governor, a plurality of over 60,000 if the present rate of gain is continued.

The Republican state central committee claims the state by 80,000 or over.

GENERAL FRANCIS MARION DRAKE.

The committee claims the legislature by two-thirds majority. The present indications are that the Populists will make large gains all over the state, and their total vote may be 50,000, the largest ever polled in the state. The Republican vote shows no special loss the losses to Populism being almost uniformly from the Democrats.

GREENHALGE IS RE-ELECTED.

Republicans Have a Majority of 65,000 In Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Returns indicate the majority of Greenhalge, Republican, for governor, will be about 65,000 in the state.

The legislative department of the government is also solidly Republican 35 of the 40 senators elected being of that political basis. There is a slight gain for the Democratic party, the senate last year having stood 35 Republicans and 4 Democrats. In the house of representatives the Republicans have practically the same majority as last year, which was an overwhelming one

Explorer Smith Is Safe.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—A cablegram has been received in this city from Mr. Donaldson Smith dated Aden bearing the one word "successful." This news establishes the safety of the plucky Philadelphian, who for the past year and a half has been exploring the wilds of Eastern Africa, and at the same time puts an end to doubts as to his safety, which had been felt by those interested in the expedition for the past few months.

Torn Apparel of a Woman Found.

HICKORYTOWN, Pa., Nov. 6.—A large quantity of woman's apparel found on the embankments of two quarries near here has caused a sensation throughout Plymouth township and given rise to the belief that a tragedy has been committed. The water in each of the quarries is about 15 feet deep, and both will be dragged with the expectation of finding a body in one of them.

Attacked a Young Girl.

LANCASTER, Pa., Nov. 6.—Bertha, the 14-year-old daughter of Jacob McCue, a well-to-do farmer of East Lampeter township, near here, has been attacked by Barton Harsh, a farm laborer employed by McCue. After maltreating the child and inflicting injuries that left her in a critical condition Harsh fled. He was arrested.

Peculiar Accident May Cause Death.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 6.—Dr. P. B. Breinig, a prominent physician, is lying in a precarious condition from the effects of striking his head against a post recently while walking up the doorsteps at his home. There is very little hope of his recovery.

Charged With Arson.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Philip Miller of Marshall's Creek, formerly Mrs. Harvey Surgeon, has been arrested, charged with burning Yetter's schoolhouse. The motive, it is said, was to have revenge against the teacher of the school.

Rainey Plants Not Sold.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 6.—It was reported that the H. C. Frick Coke company had purchased the plants of W. J. Rainey in the Connellsville coke region, consisting of 1,400 ovens. A representative of the Frick company has denied the story.

May Become Grand Vizier.

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—Ahmed Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish ambassador to Germany, has left this city for Constantinople. He leaves Berlin at the request of the sultan and may become grand vizier, in succession to Kiamil Pasha.

THE NEXT SENATE.

Elections Yesterday Will Cause Some Changes.

THE REPUBLICANS GAIN TWO.

They Get New Senators From Ohio and Maryland—Allison Sure of Re-Election, Blackburn and George to Be Returned. How It Effects Hill and Smith.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Great interest was manifested here in the legislative elections throughout the country, as they will materially affect the control of the United States senate. Up to election day the standing in the senate was as follows: Republicans, 42; Democrats, 39; Populists, 6; vacant (Delaware), 1. Total, 88.

As the result of the elections, the Democrats will lose and the Republicans will gain a senator from Maryland and from Ohio, respectively. The other legislative elections do not appear to affect the standing in the senate, as Kentucky and Mississippi remain Democratic, the latter certainly and the former probably, while Iowa continues Republican. Utah chooses two United States senators for the first time, but the complexion of the legislature is not yet certain. The Utah senators take their seats in the senate shortly after congress assembles. The changes in Ohio and Maryland will not affect the senate until March 4, 1897.

The Republican majority in the next Ohio legislature, as shown by the returns from Ohio, insures the retirement of Senator Brice, Democrat, and the succession of a Republican. It appears to be settled that ex-Governor Forraker will be the choice of the legislature, as the state convention placed his name in the platform as the senatorial candidate.

In Maryland the election of a Republican legislature, the first in many years, will bring about the retirement of Senator Gibson and the election of a Republican in his place. As yet no names have been mentioned in connection with the succession.

The election of a Republican legislature in Iowa is not unexpected, and it is considered settled that Senator Allison will be elected to succeed himself, his present term expiring March 4, 1897.

In Kentucky incomplete returns indicate a Democratic legislature, which will elect Senator Blackburn to succeed himself.

The return of a Democratic legislature in Mississippi has been a foregone conclusion. It will elect a successor to Senator George. The returns from New York and New Jersey indicate Republican gains. These legislatures do not elect United States senators this year, but, as part of the legislatures hold over, the present election is important in influencing those bodies which will elect successors to Senator Hill of New York and Senator Smith of New Jersey, whose terms expire March 4, 1897.

New Jersey Probably Republican.

TRENTON, Nov. 6.—It is a difficult matter to even forecast the result of the election in New Jersey, for the reason that the official figures are not to be had, also for the reason that Essex county is conceded to be the pivotal point in the absence of trustworthy figures. Both sides claim to have carried the county. The chairman of the Mercer county Democratic committee concedes the state to the Republicans by from 10,000 to 15,000.

Mayor Pingree Re-Elected.

DETROIT, Nov. 6.—Detroit has elected the entire Republican city ticket and has added two aldermen to the Republican majority in the common counsel. Mayor Pingree ran ahead of the balance of the city ticket by 1,500 and upwards His majority over Coldwater, Democrat, according to the official returns, is 10,530, which exceeds Coldwater's total vote over 200.

Utah Is In Doubt.

SALT LAKE, Nov. 6.—Chairman Powers says the chances on the governorship are about even, that Roberts, Democrat, for congress, will be elected by 900 majority, and indications are that the legislature will be democratic Chairman Cannon of the Republican committee says state and legislative ticket will be elected, but gives no figures.

Non-Partisan W. C. T. U.

OBERLIN, O., Nov. 6.—The sixth annual convention of the Non-Partisan W. C. T. U. has opened here. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Mrs. Currier, Rev. H. M. Tenney and Mrs. A. F. Johnson of Oberlin, the responses being by Mrs. E. A. Barrington of Belfast, Mo., on behalf of the east, Mrs. Alonzo Linn of Washington, for the interior, and Mrs. Florence Miller of Des Moines, Ia., on behalf of the west.

Engineers Have No Grievances.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 6.—First Assistant Grand Chief T. S. Ingraham of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who represents Chief Arthur during the latter's absence in Europe, says that so far as known at headquarters the engineers on the Great Northern have no grievance whatever. He believes it highly improbable that they would in any way become involved or take part in any strike on the road.

Murdered and Robbed.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 6.—Captain Frederick Lange and his wife have been murdered at their home, on Franklin avenue, Gardenville. It is supposed that robbery was the incentive of the double murder.

Murderer Brannigan Surrenders.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—Elmer E. Brannigan, the negro who shot and killed his wife, has surrendered to the police, and, waiving examination, was bound over to court on a charge of first degree murder.

A Theater Building Collapses.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—A dispatch to The Globe from Vienna says that the German theater building at Vienna has collapsed, burying 15 workmen in the ruins.

Mart a Elected In Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Nov. 6.—Returns indicate that the Republicans have carried a majority of their county tickets in their entirety for pluralities of 700 to 800, and that David Martin, Republican candidate for chief justice of the supreme court, is elected by a handsome majority.

Republicans Carry Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—The Republicans carried the election by pluralities of about 30,000 on the entire ticket. Ball the Republican candidate for judge of the superior court, has defeated Morrison, his Democratic competitor, by 30,500. The Republicans elected five of the trustees for the $30,000,000 drainage canal.

The Result in Virginia.

RICHMOND, Nov. 6.—The election closed one of the most apathetic campaigns known in Virginia for many years. The detailed returns, so far as received, show that the new senate will contain 34 Democrats and 6 anti-Democrats and the house about 80 Democrats and 20 anti-Democrats.

Mississippi Election.

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 6.—Reports estimate a Democratic majority of 45,000 to 50,000. The campaign was on free silver as against the gold standard and the result is a complete victory for the free silverites.

Nebraska In Doubt.

OMAHA, Nov. 6. — The result in Omaha and Nebraska is still in doubt

CARRIED NEW YORK.

Republicans Carry the State and Capture the Legislature.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—New York state has been carried by the Republicans by pluralities ranging from 48,000 to 55,000, compared with a plurality of 24,484 for the head of the ticket two years ago. Returns from more than one-half of the election districts outside of the cities of New York and Brooklyn, or "above the Harlem," show a net Republican gain of 12,803, compared with the vote of two years ago. Maintaining the same average, the gains will reach 23,000 outside of greater New York. In the two cities below the Harlem the Democratic plurality of 60,543 two years ago has been reduced about 12,000, giving the state to the head of the Republican ticket by 50,000 plurality in round numbers.

In 1893 Palmer (Republican), for secretary of state, had a plurality of 84,847 in New York state above the Harlem river, while Meyer (Democrat) had a plurality in New York and Kings counties of 60,343, giving the Republican candidate a plurality of 24,484 on the total state vote.

This year Palmer (Republican), for secretary of state, has carried the state above the Harlem, based upon returns from 1,795 election districts out of a total of 3,385, or more than one-half of the outside election districts by probably 100,000 plurality. King (Democrat) has carried New York and Kings counties by a plurality of nearly 50,000, giving the head of the Republican ticket a safe plurality of 50,000 in the state at large.

The two branches of the legislature remain as before under the direction of the Republicans. The election throughout the state was orderly and rapidly conducted, and the results were quickly compiled.

Tammany has carried New York by about 25,000 plurality.

Dr. Parkhurst says he is not discouraged at the result; that a great lesson has been learned, and that the committee of fifty should never had gone into a fusion movement, although it took what its members thought was the best course. The Republican chairman, Lauterbaugh, says the lesson of the day is that there will be no more fusion. "Fusion is dead forever," he said, and politicians of every faction echo his declaration.

CARNEGIE'S SUPERB GIFT.

The New Library Formally Presented to the City of Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 6.—The magnificent Carnegie library in Schenley park, Andrew Carnegie's gift to the city of Pittsburg, was opened last night by a grand musical programme and speeches by Governor Hastings, Mayor McKenna, Congressman Dalzell, President Frew of the board of trustees and Andrew Carnegie, who made a presentation of the keys of the new structure.

After the exercises were concluded, a procession, headed by Mr. Carnegie and wife and President Frew and wife, was conducted through the entire building, those who had listened to the dedication exercises taking up the line of march following the prominent guests of the occasion.

The beautiful art gallery and other exhibits were thrown open for inspection. The art gallery contains a loan collection of paintings worth $1,000,000 from all parts of the world.

A RESIDENT CORPORATION.

Important Decision Affecting the C. & O. Railroad Company.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Nov. 6.—The circuit court has rendered a decision that establishes the claim heretofore held that the C. & O. R. R. Co. is a resident corporation of all cities on the north bank of the Ohio river where connection is made with the railroad by ferryboats owned by the railroad company. The case was that of D. L. Williams, a commercial traveler, vs. the C. & O. R. R. Co. for damages for detention of baggage.

The court held, confirming the finding of the lower courts, that the railroad to all intents and purposes entered this city because it sold tickets to Portsmouth and had offices here at which it sold tickets and billed freight from Portsmouth; that its function as a common carrier began with reference to freight and passengers of this city, when it took charge of them at its ferry on this side of the river, and that therefore service of summons upon its agent here constituted sufficient legal service.

THE POWERS THREATEN.

Ambassadors Inform the Porte That the Massacres and Rioting Must Stop.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 6.—Owing to the recurring disturbances in various parts of the Turkish empire the ambassadors of the powers have gone to the porte separately and urged that immediate and adequate measures for the restoration of order be taken, declaring that otherwise, the powers acting in concert, will take their own steps in the matter.

An official dispatch has been received here from Marish saying that a conflict has occurred there owing to the Armenians firing upon the Mussulmen, killing one of them and wounding another. The fighting resulted in a lieutenant of the gendarmes and five Mussulmen being wounded and 14 Armenians being either killed or wounded.

A Religious Riot in Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 6.—There was an ugly feeling all election day between the A. P. A.'s and Catholics at the First precinct of the Fourth ward. Joseph Diefenbach, one of the former, and Will Donovan, a Catholic, had a quarrel which resulted in a pitched battle between the elements. Twenty shots were exchanged before the police succeeded in stopping the riot. Only one man, Jacob Enright, an A. P. A., was seriously wounded. The rioters scattered.

A $1,000,000 Fire In New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A fire that started in Keep's shirt factory, at Broadway and Bleecher streets, which extended to Crosby street, is estimated to have done a damage of $1,000,000. The comparatively new building of the Manhattan Savings institution was destroyed. The other buildings were destroyed and others damaged by fire and water.

A National Bank Fails.

NEW WHATCOM, Wash., Nov. 6.—The Bellingham Bay National bank has closed its door by order of directors, being unable to meet the county treasurer's demand for the county's deposit. The cashier reports the liabilities approximately at $105,000, of which $77,000 is due depositors. The assets are $187,000.

Married Against His Will.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6. — Judge Troutt has annulled the marriage of C. W. Saunders and Mrs. Sadie Saunders of East Boston, Mass., on the ground that Saunders was a minor when the ceremony was performed. Saunders testified that he married the woman against his will and has not seen her since.

Mrs. Maybrick Transferred.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Mrs. Florence Maybrick, the American woman who is undergoing a sentence of imprisonment for life after having been convicted in 1889 of poisoning her husband, James Maybrick, has been removed from Woking prison to the jail at Aylesbury, with other female convicts.

The Duke's People Celebrate.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The Standard says that the marriage of the Duke of Marlborough to Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt will be celebrated on all the duke's estates. The bells will be rung in all the churches where he has property, and the employes will be given a holiday and a dinner.

BUSHNELL IS VICTOR.

Chairman Kurtz Claims His Election by 90,000.

THE DEMOCRATS ADMIT DEFEAT.

Their Chairman Says Campbell Is Beaten by 60,000—The Legislature Safely Republican—The Democratic Managers Assign Several Reasons For Their Defeat.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—The Republican state committee claim that the plurality of General Bushnell will exceed that of 80,000 for Governor McKinley in 1893, with which year's vote they are comparing returns. There are some at headquarters who say that complete returns will show a Republican plurality almost equal to that of last year—137,000—the high-water mark. The Republican state committee saw fit to make a conservative statement to those wanting to bet on over 100,000. Chairman Kurtz gave out the following: "Returns indicate that the Republicans have carried the state by a plurality not less than that given two years ago and elected a decisive majority of the members of the next general assembly."

Chairman Kurtz will not claim over 90,000 at the most, although others in his quarters go higher. Chairman Kurtz does not estimate the Republicans will have two-thirds of the legislature, but he says the Republican majority in both branches will be so large that the usual interest is not taken in ascertaining the exact number of Republicans and Democrats on joint ballot for United States senator.

At Democratic state headquarters an announcement was made that Ohio had gone Republican by a decisive majority in the legislature as well as a large plurality on the state ticket.

Some of the Democratic managers say that the result is due to the same cause as in 1893 and 1894—opposition to President Cleveland's administration and the last congress. As both parties had the same financial platform, the silver question was not an issue in the campaign. The tariff was the only national issue between the parties, the Democratic wool growers and others voting with the Republicans. The Populists cast about 40,000 votes; the Prohibitionists, about 20,000, and the Socialists about 2,000. Neither the third, fourth nor fifth parties now the A. P. A. affected the result. The contest was between the Republicans and Democrats on the tariff and state issues.

Ex-Congressman Charles M. Anderson, chairman of the Democratic state committee, gives out the following: "We concede the state to the Republicans by 60,000 plurality and both branches of the legislature by a large majority. The Populist vote of over 60,000 for Coxey for governor hurt us. The hard times were too fresh in the minds of the people to be forgotten and this led to our defeat. There is nothing left us but hope on which to begin the campaign of 1896."

Chairman Kurtz of the Republican state committee states that the Republicans have surely elected 77 out of 112 members of the house of representatives and 27 out of the 37 members of the senate, a majority of 47 on joint ballot for senator.

Constipation

Demands prompt treatment. The results of neglect may be serious. Avoid all harsh and drastic purgatives, the tendency of which is to weaken the bowels. The best remedy is Ayer's Pills. Being purely vegetable, their action is prompt and their effect always beneficial. They are an admirable Liver and After-dinner pill, and everywhere endorsed by the profession.

"Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them in my practice."—Dr. I. E. Fowler, Bridgeport, Conn.

"I can recommend Ayer's Pills above all others, having long proved their value as a cathartic for myself and family."—J. T. Hess, Leithsville, Pa.

"For several years Ayer's Pills have been used in my family. We find them an for constipation and indigestion, and are never without them in the house."—Moses Grenier, Lowell, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Pills, for liver troubles and indigestion, during many years, and have always found them prompt and efficient in their action."—L. N. Smith, Utica, N. Y.

"I suffered from constipation which assumed such an obstinate form that I feared it would cause a stoppage of the bowels. Two boxes of Ayer's Pills effected a complete cure."—D. Burke, Saco, Me.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years and consider them an invaluable family medicine. I know of no better remedy for liver troubles, and have always found them a prompt cure for dyspepsia."—James Quinn, 90 Middle st., Hartford, Conn.

"Having been troubled with costiveness, which seems inevitable with persons of sedentary habits, I have tried Ayer's Pills, hoping for relief. I am glad to say that they have served me better than any other medicine. I arrive at this conclusion only after a faithful trial of their merits."—Samuel T. Jones, Oak st., Boston, Mass.

An open letter to women. No. 1.

Laurel Ave., San Francisco, May 18, 1892.

"Dear friend of women:

"When my baby was born, five years ago, I got up in six days. Far too soon. Result: falling of the womb. Ever since I've been miserable.

"I tried everything: doctors, medicines, apparatus; but grew worse.

"I could hardly stand; and walking without support was impossible.

"At last I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it. The effect was astonishing. Since I took the first bottle my womb has not troubled me, and, thanks only to you, I am now well. Every suffering woman should know how reliable your compound is. It is a sure cure."
